To Whom It May Concern:

My law firm has had a large volume subrogation practice for over 25 years in the State of Missouri. Over that period of time, we have employed the services of many entities which purport to provide high quality employment information in connection with judgment debtors. To date, the most effective entity that we have used is EmploymentSkipTracing.com which is owned by Steve Singer. Steve has done an excellent job setting up a secure, electronic data sharing process that enables us to provide him the essential information which he needs in order to obtain employment information on judgment debtors. He provides raw, new employment information in connection with our pool of judgment debtors on a weekly basis. The operation has proven to be easy to use and highly successful in terms of both the quality and the quantity of employment locates that he provides.

Without reservation, I highly recommend to any law firm, creditor or collection agency that it contact Steve Singer at EmploymentSkipTracing.com in order to increase its profitability and collection rate on outstanding judgments.

Sincerely,

MARK G. McMAHON
